CRIME WAVE STRIKES EASTERN CITIES WHERE BANDITS GET BIG HAULS

Revolver Duel in Busy Section Was Pulled Friday

WOMAN KIDNAPPED

Robbers Boldly Hold Up Wealthy Man in Busy Section

CHICAGO, Dec. 24.—A night of Christmas crime which included a revolver duel at Chicago's busiest corner, State and Madison streets, and a $25,000 holdup, was climaxed early today by two bold kidnappings of wealthy motorists.

Arthur C. Buthva, wealthy inventor and manufacturer of flatirons of Des Moines, Iowa, who was visiting relatives here, was kidnapped, slugged and robbed and left chained to his automobile on a bleak, blizzard-swept prairie on the outskirts of the city.

He was taken to the German Deaconess hospital where his condition is critical.

John A. McRae, a Detroit manufacturer, his wife, Edith, and John G. Allen, McRae's representative in Chicago, were the victims of the second kidnapping.

McRae and his wife left the LaSalle hotel, where they had been staying, about 10 p. m. and met Allen a few minutes later. While driving on the south side they were held up by five bandits. Mrs. McRae was forced into the bandit car. A robber demanded her rings.

"I left them in the safe at the hotel," she told the robber. The bandit told her she was a liar and forced her to take off her shoes. The bandit searched her and subjected her to insults, but she gamely refused to give up the gems. They took about $800 of her money and finally dumped her from the automobile near her hotel.

In the meantime, the bandits had taken charge of her husband's car and robbed him and Allen of all their money and valuables and early today allowed them to leave their automobiles near the hotel.

An alleged shoplifter shot and wounded Robert Fitzgerald, a detective for the Carson, Pirie and Scott company, one of Chicago's largest stores. The detective accosted the man as he was leaving the store. The alleged thief shot while hundreds of shoppers were milling around the door of the store. He was caught after a chase. A wagon delivering Christmas purchases from Blum's shop, one of Chicago's most exclusive stores, was held up and $25,000 worth of furs were taken.

VILLAGE DEMOLISHED.

Monroe, La., Dec. 24.—The village of Spencer, Union parish, near here, was practically demolished by a storm which swept over northeastern Louisiana today.

Desperate Men Seeking Riches Slay Their Victims

HAVE GUN BATTLES

Get $4,000 in Jewels in Restaurant in Slum District

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—A Christmas crime wave struck New York during the night. Two men were killed and two wounded in gun battles between police, bandits and their victims.

Nelson Levy was killed in the Bronx after having held up a United Cigar store.

Leon Sottili, a saloonkeeper of the Bronx, was shot and killed by holdup men. Phillip S. Honeywood, nephew of the Earl of Devon, was held up, blackjacked and left bound and gagged.

Four thousand dollars in jewels was obtained by robbers who held up a restaurant in the Bowery district.

Carl Mollar, 64, a jeweler, was killed and his wife, Mrs. Ursuline Mollar, probably fatally wounded by a bandit. The bandit, who ran from the place after the shooting, was caught. He gave the name of Arlic Wesling, 35, and said:

"I did it to buy my mother a Christmas present. I was broke."

Mollar and his wife were shot when they refused to throw up their hands. The bandit grabbed $10,000 worth of jewelry but dropped it all before the police seized him.

REAR SCREENS ARE BURGLAR'S MANIA

Burglars with a mania for cutting screens are again operating. Last night the home of Mrs. Mary Ralphs, 845 West Louise street was burglarized and a suit case containing some clothing, several Christmas presents and a sweater were taken. The robbery was reported at 10 p. m. and Captain McGuire was sent to investigate. He reported that entrance to the home had been gained by the burglars who cut a hole in the rear screen door and had then cut another hole through the wooden door. Detectives Herda and Delgardo were assigned to the case and are conducting an investigation.

MINCE PIES.

BOSTON, Dec. 24.—A momentous decision was made today by the New England prohibition enforcement agent, Elmer C. Potter. Potter ruled that mince pies in Boston can have as much brandy as the mince pies of San Francisco. "It's legal," said Potter, "so on with the party."

Merry Christmas.

WRESTLING MATCH HERE JANUARY 7 FOR GUARDS

Hackenschmidt Accepts Challenge of Champion of Canada

Jack McDonald, holder of the Canadian heavyweight wrestling championship and John Hackenschmidt of Glendale have signed a contract to wrestle in Glendale on the night of January 7 under the auspices of the Glendale companies of the California national guard.

The wrestlers signed the contract under the auspices of the national guard after several hours of discussion. Several other promoters beside the Glendale men who arranged the match put in bids for the match between these two mat artists when it was learned that they were anxious to meet. The deciding factor in securing the match for Glendale was the fact that Hackenschmidt lives in this city and said that he wanted to wrestle a man of McDonald's reputation in his own home town and give the devotees of the mat game an opportunity to see him at his best matched against a man with an international reputation. McDonald has the reputation and is one of the cleanest and squarest wrestlers in the game today.

McDonald has successfully defended the title of Canadian heavyweight champion for some time and is anxious to annex a few more titles while touring the states. On the night of December 28 he is scheduled to wrestle Constantine Romanoff for the championship of the Pacific coast. He will wrestle Hackenschmidt in Glendale on January 7 and on January 17 he is scheduled to meet Plestina, who is said to be the best wrestler in the game at present. This match will be held in El Paso, Texas.

On Washington's birthday he is scheduled to oppose Zybiszko in New York City at Madison Square Garden.

Hackenschidt needs no introduction to Glendalians as they have had several opportunities to witness his work on the mat. Hackenschmidt has built up an enviable reputation for clean work on the mat and for cleverness that is seldom displayed by a man of his weight.

WANT MEN SUNDAY AT CITY HALL

Twenty-five men are wanted Sunday and Monday morning at the Public Service Warehouse, in the rear of the Glendale City Hall for flood control work. Applicants should appear at 8 o'clock Sunday morning as well as Monday morning.

Glendale Has Good Cause For Very Merry Christmas

By JOHN H. GERRIE
Prosperity Editor Glendale Daily Press

This ought to be a very merry Christmas for Glendale. No young city in the country is growing so fast, none is more prosperous and none has a better outlook on the future.

Those who reside here ought to be happy that they are settled in so pleasant a community, with surroundings of such scenic beauty, with a climate so equable and with such excellent prospects of health, contentment and happiness.

John H. Gerrie

Those fortunate enough to own property here ought to be particularly gratified with the knowledge that as the population of the city bounds upward the values of their holdings will keep pace. To own a home wherever one may be located is wisdom but to own a home that steadily advances in worldly worth contributes an agreeable "kick" to wisdom.

With building permits for the year of approximately $5,000,000, setting a new high mark for all cities of its class, Glendale has lost nothing of its lead as the fastest growing community in the United States. Take a walk or a drive through your own thoroughfares on Christmas day and you will find scarcely a street without at least one building in course of construction.

As an example of the speed with which the city is being built up the block on Wilson avenue between Columbus and Pacific will suffice. Of thirty-two lots in that block all but one have homes upon them and all but six of these have been put up within the last eighteen months. Two blocks on the east side of Louise street between Doran and the "wash" hadn't a house upon them last Christmas day and this Christmas twelve houses are there.

So it goes all through this lovely little city. Homes are just starting and homes are nearing completion wherever you look. In the business district shop buildings are being rushed and even there are signs of new activity in the industrial district.

For these evidences of substantial growth Glendalians are entitled to make merry tomorrow. That the city administration is endeavoring to keep pace with population is evidenced by its plans for an adequate sewage system that shall take care of the Glendale of the future as well as the Glendale of today. This will not detract from the happiness of the occasion.

That public sentiment, partly through the guidance of the local Chamber of Commerce, is aroused to the need of parks and playgrounds, of more factories and mills and of more apartments and hotels and to the desirability of a civic center and a public auditorium, is the surest forerunner of broad civic development for which those concerned are to be congratulated. Which adds still further justification for a very merry Christmas in Glendale.

CYCLONE TRAGEDY

EARLE, Ark., Dec. 24.—Eight negroes and one white man were killed in a cyclone which practically wiped out Clarksdale, Ark., a dispatch received here today stated.

RAID HALL

LONDON, Dec. 24.—Police today raided a parochial hall at the Toll Cross near Glasgow. They captured thirteen Sinn Feiners and numerous rifles, bombs and other munitions.

Merry Christmas

Our Greeting to You

After all, there is no greeting like it: MERRY CHRISTMAS!

We've tried to improve on it, and find and say something new, but the new thing does not have the spirit of the old.

There's something about "Merry Christmas!" that embodies our best sentiment.

It seems that it must always have been old.

And surely it is always new.

And it is in the hearts of all of us.

The Publisher and the Editor and the Reporter and the Bookkeeper and the Pressman and the Linotype Man and the Foreman and the Carrier Boy and even the Devil.

Yes, even the Devil.

For they have it in their eyes and their voices and their spirits.

And so we send it on to you.

We who are grateful for the good will and support of our readers and advertisers and the newspaper family generally:

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

JUDGE LOWE HOME SERIOUSLY ILL ACUTE ATTACK

City Police Court Magistrate Suffers Sudden Illness

All cases in the Glendale police court scheduled for today have been postponed on account of the serious illness of Police Judge F. H. Lowe.

Judge Lowe is confined to his bed at the Lowe home, 643 North Central suffering an attack of acute bronchitis that according to Dr. J. C. Eckles has the indications of developing into a severe case of pneumonia. A trained nurse is in attendance.

Judge Lowe was in his office at the city hall yesterday and was suffering from a cold. Last night he became so ill that he went to bed and summoned Dr. Eckles.

The many friends of Judge Lowe hope that he will improve and that on Christmas morning he will be on the road to a speedy recovery.

FEW SLACKERS IN 7TH ARTILLERY

Colonel Holbrook Denies Statement Made in Washington

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 24.—"The Seventh field artiliery had exceptionally few slackers," declared Col. L. R. Holbrook, U. S. A., in a statement issued in connection with the investigation at Washington of the Watson charges of cruelty in the American expeditionary forces in France.

"The few slackers we had were segregated and worked in a so-called 'slacker squad,' where they did their part under proper supervision without incumbrance to the batteries from which they came. Ex-private Robert A. Harrison was a member of this squad."

Harrison had told the senate investigating committee a story of alleged cruelty on the part of Holbrook. Holbrook declared that he "commanded as fine a regiment as ever went across," in expressing regret that he had been quoted as saying that he commanded a "slacker outfit."

WOULD GET WRIT FOR SPUD MURPHY

Attorney Says Sentence Is Too Severe for His Client

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 24.—Petition for a writ of habeas corpus for Edmund (Spud) Murphy, convicted in the "Howard street gang" prosecutions here, was filed by Ernest Spagnoli, Murphy's attorney.

The writ was filed in the United States district court of appeals. In his petition the attorney alleges the sentence of 50 years recently placed upon Murphy by the state prison board is "unusual and excessive," thus violating the provisions of the United States constitution.

"The penalty is undoubtedly cruel and inhuman and thus violates the constitution," Spagnoli said. Under the law the court can denounce the sentence.

FINE XMAS SEEMS IN STORE FOR ALL

"This should be the happiest Christmas the people of Glendale have ever known," said R. L. Webster of the Standard garage, corner Broadway and Kenwood street. "Everything is in their favor. The recent rain assures Southern California a very prosperous year and Glendale is sue to get her share of this prosperity. This is only one of the things that the people of Glendale have to be thankful for this Christmas time."

The Standard garage has been in existence for something like four months. During that time their business has grown until now both of the boys, H. C. Ferguson and R. L. Webster, are being kept busy night and day. One of the secrets for the success of this firm is that they try to make "every job the best job." They endeavor to give a little more than a dollar's worth for every dollar expended with them, and to give it in kindly and courteous manner. That no job is finished until the customer is thoroughly satisfied is the policy of this company.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 24.—Una buena comida De Pascua De Navidad—you bet. Meaning that certain gentlemen of Mexican persuasion are going to have a real Christmas feed tomorrow. Because the H. J. Angell poultry ranch at Bandini was raided by twenty bandits early today, who carried away more than one thousand chickens and turkeys. The ranch foreman was severely beaten in attempting to resist the raiders. A posse from the sheriff's office is in pursuit.

CREDIT ASS'N LIST GROWS RAPIDLY SAYS PILLING

Secretary Declares Business Houses Get Good Results

Frank H. Pilling of the Glendale Credit association says that the credit bureau of the association is increasing its list of ratings daily and that the merchants and professional men of the city are beginning to make use of the information from the bureau.

Every day there are more information blanks being returned to the offices of the association in the Citizens' building and the merchants and professional men are already finding the information of vast benefit to them in extending credit.

Business men of Glendale who are not already members of the Credit association are urged to apply for membership at once, as it is indicated that the membership fee to the organization will increase as the credit information available at the bureau increases.

There is another patient in the home of Peter Ferry which was quarantined a short time ago because of the illness of little Catherine Ferry with diphtheria. The child's grandmother, Mrs. Mary O'Brien, has developed the same disease and is quite sick. It will not be a very merry Christmas at the Ferry's but it is part of their philosophy to look on the bright side and Christmas cheer for those who are not sick will not be lacking. They have the sympathy of a host of friends who have rejoiced with them in the past at the holiday season.

YULETIDE IS FILLED WITH RIGHT SPIRIT

Nearly Hundred and Fifty Stockings for Poor Kiddies

ELKS DO GOOD WORK

Distribute Over $3000 in Gifts to Poor in Valley

Fare and warmer for Christmas.

Sunday being a legal holiday, and inasmuch as two legal holidaya are not allowed to fall on the same ady, Monday, December 26, this year, washing will be postponed and Christmas will take place.

STORES CLOSE MONDAY

All stores and other places of business, including the office of the Glendale Daily Press, will be closed to honor the birthday anniversary of Christ, the One who taught generations past and generations to come that the key to happiness in this life and to everlasting life is formed of the precious metals of faith, hope and charity.

ELKS PLAY SANTA

Christmas in Glendale is going to be a happy one. The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks is today distributing approximately $3000 worth of useful presents to the poor people of Glendale and for many miles around the valley. This is an annual event in Elkdom and if there is a needy family today that is overlooked, it will be because they have not been made known to the Glendale Elks, the big-hearted, happy, generous group of men that are an honor to the grand lodge of all Elkdom.

OVER 100 STOCKINGS

The Glendale Daily Press is happy to know that there are hundreds of people in the city who have given to the poor. Practically every state in the Union, and Canada, (our big cousin state at the north) is represented in the 123 filled stockings, 14 packages and one overcoat.

ELEVENTH HOUR

This morning, a happy little lady from Montana came bustling in to leave a stocking from Montana. She had been pretty busy making gifts, but when she read in the Glendale Press last night that Montana had not sent in a stocking, she filled two and brought them in this morning. Just before closing time last night, a man from Michigan came in with two pairs of stockings well filled, all four of them. He read that Michigan had not answered the call, so he made a noise like Santa Claus and tonight, two kiddies will be made happy with the Michigan gifts, too.

COMMENDABLE SPIRIT

The spirit of unselfishness, the attitude of cheerfulness and charity displayed by the many men, women and children who have given stockings in the Glendale Daily Press drive for the poor kiddies is most commendable and the Glendale Daily Press is overjoyed in the realization that nearly 150 kiddies are going to have a happier Christmas than they anticipated.

GO TO CHURCH

All churches in Glendale will have Christmas programs tomorrow, as will be noted by their announcements on another page.

NO GLENDALE PRESS

As announced above, the entire force of the Glendale Daily Press will "Christmas" Monday and there will be no issue of the paper on that day. The Los Angeles Evening Express will be delivered about noon, however, to all subscribers.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

The Glendale Daily Press wishes all the world a Merry Christmas. It hopes every man, woman and child in Glendale will have a most joyful Yuletide. There are many whose hearts will be heavy because of the absence of some dear one, but they will find comfort by kneeling at the altar lighted by the rays of Faith, Hope and Charity.

GUSHER WILD.

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 24.—The great Elk Hills gusher of the Pacific Oil company, brought in three weeks ago, "went wild" today. The gusher said t obe one of the greatest in the country, today broke its cappings, wrecked the derrick and is shooting oil three hundred feet into the air at a rate impossible to estimate.

THIS IS GOOD IF YOU LIKE BIG WHOPPERS

DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 24.—Two prominent Des Moines business men were joint owners of a big Christmas turkey. They were too tender hearted to behead the turk, so they chloroformed him, plucked his plumage and laid him away in the ice box. When they returned to the house Mr. Turk, in complete nudity, was strutting about the parlor floor.

RUM WAR LOOMS IN WISCONSIN

ANTIGO, Wis., Dec. 24.—Rum war loomed here today as reinforcements were rushed to the aid of prohibition agents. One alleged moonshiner is dead and two others charged with trafficking in illicit liquor were in jail. Trouble seemed probably between prohibition agents and the opposition as the result of the fatal shooting of Julius Wurzer yesterday. He was shot in a gun duel with authorities near his cabin at Elton.

IF GEORGE GETS IT HE DESERVES GOLD MEDAL

Negro Sings Song for Judge When Up for Sentence

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 24.—George Z. Guest, negro, may sing his way out of a term in the penitentiary. He was arrested here a week ago for stealing an automobile. He told the jury that a man had asked him to drive the machine to San Diego. The jury didn't believe him. Today Guest appeared before Superior Judge Roche for sentence.

"Have you anything to say before I pass sentence?" was the bromide Roche asked.

"No, judge, but I'd like to sing a song."

Roche told him to proceed.

To the tune of "John Brown's Body" Guest sang the following:

"The jury found me guilty—
The clerk, he wrote it down;
The judge, he passed sentence
"I'm now San Quentin bound.
"I'll sentence you to Folsom
To do full one to ten—
Oh, judge, have some pity
On a boy without a friend."

Frank Egan, public defender, moved for probation.

Roche said he'd think it over and give his decision December 29.

CLARK JEWELS IN CARLOAD LOT

The local branch of the Southern California Gas Company has just received a whole carload shipment of stoves and ranges of different sizes, all of them being "Clark Jewels." This shipment arrived in Glendale Thursday evening, coming direct from the factory in Chicago. Twenty-six of these stoves are being taken from the car at once to take care of the present demand.

There are a number of new features embodied in the ranges that were numbered in this recent shipment. One point is that the ovens of all of the stoves have been made 14 inches high instead of 12. The all-enamel feature is an important one. There is not a bit of paint on the model, even the linings of the ovens being enameled. This point is especially valuable in that a stove treated in this manner will not rust, unless the enamel is chipped away through rough usage.

The gas ranges numbered in this shipment are being equipped with or without the wonderful Lorain heat control device. With this device an entire meal may be cooked at one time, this proving remarkably economical. All of the ranges received in this shipment are strictly modern and each range is a "jewel" in itself.

HE'LL BE MAYOR ALONG ABOUT 1945

"It was the night before Christmas, and all through the house there was a deep air of mystery—still as a mouse." This poetry isn't exactly like anything else you have read, but it is near enough to introduce you to the thoughts uppermost on the mind of Harry Hague, Jr., the young gentleman whose picture is herewith presented to the world. At the time this picture was taken, Harry was making ready for the bath, but tonight, with that same little wondering smile, he is going to look for Santa Claus. When he prattles his "now I lay me" tonight, he will probably find it difficult to keep his mind on his business, but for that he can be forgiven, for there are dozens of millions of people who will be in the same predicament.

Anyhow, this young man, mayor of Glendale in 1945, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hague, Sr., and was 14 months old when this picture was taken. His dad is the builder who contracted the Magnolia bungalow court, and his mother is the best mother in the world, as he will testify when he is old enough to take the stand. Harry said, when interviewed by the Glendale Daily Press today that he is in entire sympathy and accord with the plan of the Glendale Daily Press in distributing filled stockings to the poor children and added that if he were not busily engaged trying to figure out why there is so much mystery around his house, he would help distribute them. He assured the Daily Press, however, that when he gets big like his dad, he will help to shove sunshine into every dark corner in Glendale. "Why," he said, "with such a wonderful dad and such a glorious mother—who wouldn't generate sunshine?" The reporter said "Righto, Harry," and beat it.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH BEAUTIFUL PROGRAM

A beautiful Christmas program was enjoyed by the children of St. Mark's Episcopal church and their parents Friday night in the Sunday school room of the church which had been beautifully decorated by the ladies of Mrs. Le Roy Bosserman's class. A beautiful Christmas tree increased the customary illumination, every child received a present and every person present a treat of candy.

The white manager was in evidence as usual beside the tree.

Every class made some contribution to the program, a song, dialogue, or tableau, and at its conclusion deposited the gifts its members had brought in the manager, receiving in exchange their own remembrances. These gifts are to be sent to the Deaconess Wilde home near the Little Church of the Angels.

Miss Gertrude Champlain presided at the piano and R. E. Downing made a short address. Following the program a short social half hour was enjoyed. It was a happy evening for all who participated, filled as it was with the real spirit of Christmas and good cheer.

CHRISTMAS CANTATA AT BAPTIST CHURCH

At the First Baptist church the influence of "The Spirit of Christmas," the good fairy of the holiday season who was personated by Miss Vesta Morrow, was beautifully illustrated in a Christmas cantata representing a poor family, a rich family and the activities of Mr. Santa Claus and Mrs. Santa Claus.

The children of the rich family have more than they can use and yet are discontented and fearful that they will not get everything they want. Touched by the Spirit of Christmas they begin to think about the children of the poor washerwoman and how they can help Santa Claus to properly remember them. In the poor family the children are heard complaining because they have no clothes to go out in. Touched by the Spirit of Christmas they begin to think about being helpful and to hope that after all there will be enough of Christmas to go around.

Santa Claus goes off in an automobile and when he fails to come back at the time expected, Mrs. Santa Claus gets out his old sleigh and fills it with a load of gifts for the poor children. Santa comes back, finds the sleigh and Mrs. Santa gone and calls upon an aviator to help him out.

The characters besides Vesta Morrow are:

Mrs. Paul Elliott, the washerwoman and mother of two children, Barbara Stamps and Billy Gray; children in the rich family, Margaret Chase, Edith Elliott and Kenneth Elliott; postman, Grover Adams; Santa Claus, J. L. Gray; Mrs. Santa Claus, Mrs. Merrill Russell; messenger of Santa Claus, Dick Bentley. Choruses by Sunday school children were introduced, and between acts the Sunday school orchestra played. There were seven scenes and the cantata constituted the entire program.

The Christmas program at the Pacific Avenue Methodist church, put on Friday night, brought out all the children and parents, who spent a happy evening enjoying the good program of songs by the various classes and departments of the church school and the pantomime, "Holy Night," by Miss Claire Robinson, sung by Miss Dona Wilson, accompanied by the Sunday school orchestra.

A collection was taken for "needy children of the world," and gifts for the disabled veterans at Thornycroft—fresh and canned fruits, jams, jellies and preserves, and lots of candy were brought, sufficient to fill one section of the choir loft.

A shining, beautifully decorated tree was the central decoration and at the psychological moment following the program Santa Claus arrived and played true to character, having a treat for each child.

BIG FAMILY PARTY AT MAREK HOME

A big family party will gather around the table of Dr. and Mrs. George Marek of 207 West Garfield on Christmas day for a big holiday dinner.

Covers will be laid for the host and hostess and their three children—Genevieve, George and Eleanor, for their brother-in-law Alvin, Marianna and Andrew, Jr., for Mrs. Marek's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Kuch of Los Angeles, her two sisters, for cousins Mr. and Mrs. Grossman from Downey and their nephew who has just arrived from the east.

A beautiful tree is already installed in the Marek home and Christmas promises to be a very merry day under that roof.

AUCTION SCIENCE CLUB FRIDAY

A meeting of the Auction Science club was held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry Powers, Jr., 707 North Isabel street, at which time this newly organized club was named. Christmas decorations were used throughout the house and very delicious refreshments were served.

The afternoon was spent in playing cards, high score being won by Mrs. H. A. McPherson. The guests were Mrs. F. J. Rogers, Mrs. Leslie Jones and sister, Mrs. Hilliard of Los Angeles, Mrs. Shephard, who substituted for Mrs. G. G. Blue, Mrs. E. E. East, who substituted for Mrs. Chesley and Mrs. Heloise Bondeau. The club plans to meet every two weeks on Friday, and the next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. H. A. McPherson on Patterson avenue.

S. O. S. CLASS WITH MISS ALICE MERCER

The S. O. S. of Central Christian church, of which Mrs. Alton Smith is the teacher, met at the home of Miss Alice Mercer Friday night where they enjoyed a merry Christmas party.

There were about 36 present, the girls each inviting a boy. The evening was spent in playing various Christmas games and a beautifully decorated tree held gifts for all. Later in the evening refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

STILL EXPLODED MAN IS DYING

SAN PEDRO, Dec. 24.—A man believed by the police to be Frank Siel, an Italian, is dying at the Hillside hospital from burns received when he battled flames from an exploding moonshine still in a residence at 985 Nineteenth street here some time last night. The house is an unoccupied new residence. Groans from the dying man were heard today by neighbors and the police summoned.

Charred gunny sacks near the man's body told of a desperate fight to subdue the flames. No papers were found on the man's body to aid in identification. Records at the gas company's office, however, disclosed the fact that a man named Siel recently ordered the gas connections in the house, gas being used in distilling the liquor.

VAUDEVILLE BILL T. D. & L. THEATER

The vaudeville bill at the T. D. and L. theater this week headed by Betty Ross Clark and the Keystone Trio is an excellent one, and offers much entertainment. Last night's audiences received the entire program with much applause. The whole bill is good, the charming personality of Miss Clark winning the laurels, however. Tonight will witness the last performances of this splendid show, including the feature film "Wealth," in which Ethel Clayton is featured.

Tomorrow the T. D. and L. will show "Don't Tell Everything" with Wallace Reid, Gloria Swanson and Elliott Dexter in the leading roles.

THERE WILL BE MORE than a little pleasure in the family whose Xmas is in a great measure electrical—a pleasure, of course, that is reflected back to the giver. Something about the electrical toaster stove earns the respect of everyone who is acquainted with it, because it has for years ben adding new laurels to its achievements—new uses and new records for endurance.

Then there is coffee-drinking, a world-wide custom. But the making of it is an art. Folks are agreed that percolated coffee is superior in flavor but only the initiated have found that electrically percolated coffee is supreme. Could you make a more pleasing selection than an electric percolator as a Xmas gift?

Now, again, toast is one of the breakfast standbys of nearly every American home. But the easiest and simplest way of making really good toast is at the breakfast table on an electric toaster.

These are but a few of the electrical Christmas gifts that are on display at the JEWEL ELECTRIC CO. of 200 E. Broadway. There are, in addition a number of other useful gifts such as the warming pad, chafing dish, disc stove, water heater and innumerable others.

The Jewel Electric Co. is remaining open this evening for your convenience. Stop in and look over their selection.

A MERRY, MERRY CHRISTMAS and a gloriously happy and successful New Year! The words are ringing on everyone's lips these days! And to think that tomorrow is the Day of Days—the day to which we've all looked forward for so many weeks and months. Although Christmas Eve, the time when "all through the house not a creature is stirring"—and good old Saint Nicholas comes down the chimney with his pack of treasures for the kiddies is really here at last, there are always just a few tag ends for Mother and Father to finish up at the last minute. When you're downtown this evening, doing this last of your Holiday shopping, be sure to visit the shops and stores represented here, for I've enjoyed every minute of my visits with them and I know you will. There are wondrous displays of lovely gifts for all members of the family and for all your friends right here in our Glendale Shops—and the best part of it is that they are marked at prices which you can easily afford to pay. This is the last minute—the Eleventh Hour—so buy it quickly but wisely—and buy it in Glendale!

"A MERRY XMAS and a happy New Year—may you have health, wealth and success"—is the greeting which Mr. Sheehy of the GLENDALE PLUMBING CO., 134 S. Orange St., sends to all his friends and patrons. But at this Xmas season have you taken every precaution that the good health of your family may be preserved? You know that one of the primary causes of ill health is unsanitary plumbing. All too often people wait until the last minute before sending for a plumber—but then it is too late and they must start paying doctor's bills. If you are wise you will keep your plumbing constantly in repair—and at the hands of experts, too. It really doesn't pay to try and save a few pennies by having the work done by unskilled workmen. It is better to put the job in charge of a reliable firm such as the Glendale Plumbing Co., who are known for their expert workmanship and reasonable prices, in the first place, for you'll undoubtedly save money in the long run. Next time you're in need of expert plumbing services send for Mr. Sheehy—you'll be more than pleased at the results.

TOO BUSY TO BAKE YOUR XMAS PIES AND CAKES? Well, I am sure that you'll enjoy the wonderful pumpkin and mince pies from the FANCY BAKERY, 142 N. Brand Blvd., for a change, anyway! They are always pure and fresh, made of the very best and most wholesome materials—and often truly better than home-made. 'Twas only today that I heard a man speaking of their delicious pies and he admitted that although his wife is one of the best cooks in Glendale she has to "go some" to surpass the Fancy Bakery goods! Mr. Walsma has also made some perfectly wonderful Xmas puddings, the sort that actually taste like "more." And, really, my dear, you couldn't commence to make puddings, fruit cakes, pies and cookies for the price they sell them at the FANCY BAKERY! The pies are but 30c each, while the plum puddings, made in the regular family size, are selling for 50c and fruit cake is 65c per pound! Stop in and try one of their pies, at any rate—but don't forget a gingerbread man, or Santa Claus for the children's stockings!

CANDY, OF COURSE, is the most acceptable and pleasing of remembrances. Stop in at the ELITE SWEET SHOP, 134 S. Brand Blvd., and buy her a box of their wonderful assorted chocolates! And, too, if you'd like to serve ice cream to the guests who drop in Xmas evening, just phone the Elite Sweet Shop and they'll deliver a quart or gallon of their perfectly delicious ice cream!

Of course you've ordered your pies from the Elite, for you know at the Holiday season their famous pumpkin and mince pies are very much in demand.

PLASTER DOG PUTS FEAR IN HEARTS OF OTHER DOGS

Gutter Pups and Aristocrats Tackle Victor Plaster Dog

The large plaster dog in front of Salmacia Brothers Music store on North Brand boulevard is proving to be a thorn in the heart of Glendale dogdom. The passiveness of the plaster canine is, in the language of the slangster, "getting the goat" of Glendale's bow-wows.

This morning a bull terrier and another dog decided that they would rid Glendale's canine circle of the silent and mysterious dog that guards the music store. The bull terrier approached the guardian of the music and with growled insults dared the plaster dog to fight. A silent, amused and tolerant stare greeted the insults. This stare was more than the bull terrier could stand and he launched himself at the throne of the dog with the intention of tearing him to pieces. He retired with a mouthful of plaster and a baffled expression.

The bull terrier's companion then hurled himself into the one-sided fray and retired with some plaster, too. The dogs, however, stuck to the attack until a police officer drove them away. The plaster dog still sits at the door of the music store unchanged save for the absence of a few chunks of plaster. When a dog passes it seems as though the plaster dog grins and seems to say, "Beat it, you mut,' which is enough to make even a gutter pup mad.

HARVEY CHURCH TO BE HANGED SOON

CHICAGO, Dec. 24. — Harvey Church was found guilty of the brutal murder of Carl Ausmus and B. J. Daugherty, motorcar salesmen. Judge Caverly sentenced the youth to be hanged. Date of execution was not set. Church lured the two salesmen to his home and murdered them with a club. His motive, testimony said, was to obtain possession of an automobile. His defense was insanity.

A SONG ON MILO WHEAT by T. W. McConnell

You ask me, friends; why really, now,
I haven't much to say;
But I am sure that Milo Wheat
Is for the best today.
Now, some things let me speak about
That you may plainly see
When folks once taste of MILO WHEAT
You'll need no other plea.
For folks who eat this food,
I'm sure you will hear say:
"For strength, health and every ill,
It's best, we know today;
We're living now on MILO WHEAT,
Our bank account will grow,
For we can have a good square meal
For three cents now, you know.
You know our days are perilous times
When all will have a test,
And they will surely want to eat
The cheapest and the best.
It will not be so very long
Till you will hear the call
For MILO WHEAT from every class,
Both rich, poor, large and small.

Truths in Epigram

Morality knows nothing of geographical boundaries or distinctions of race.—Spencer (1829-1903).

Many a time, from a bad beginning great friendships have sprung up.—Terence (185-159 B. C.).

Ignorance of one's misfortunes is clear gain.—Euripdes (484-406 B. C.).

CHRISTMAS

To all the readers of this paper "Merry Christmas." To each of them "Happy New Year."

These are not perfunctory expressions of good ill. They embody in familiar phrases, sincere ishes that no better phrases have been coined to nvey.

This holiday season seems to have made an unonted appeal. The spirit of the season has been splayed in countless ways, with great generosity d infinite sweetness. The cry of want has touched e hearts of men and women.

Newspapers that took the trouble to find instances poverty and make them known, have had a veritle flood of responses. Many such instances have en brought to light. Probably there are more, any more; sorrow and privation hide sometimes hind a wall of pride.

Let the matter be made personal: What have u done to render some desolate home brighter? ve you fed the hungry? Clothed the naked? tting in the midst of abundance, conscious of rmth and shelter; secure in the presence of love, hat have you done?

These are questions for each soul to answer for elf.

If the opportunity has been neglected, it is not o late. The day passes, but the opportunity ides. True charity is no spasmodic virtue goaded o activity once a year. The men and women who ve sent in their contributions are charitable at all nes. Their activities have been shaped on this casion by the acute knowledge that there was eat need.

Always there is great need. Always there is deand for the exercise of the same kindly beneficence at has been richly displayed for Christmas. Only ople do not realize it. It has to be brought home them. It has been brought home to them.

To you, also?

PERJURY AND JUSTICE

The average criminal trial is a scandal. It is made by the free use of perjury. Perjury really is a testable crime. For the most part it goes unded and unpunished. That it shall be an element every criminal trial is accepted as a matter of urse.

No reflection is to be made as to a criminal trial w in progress. The typical trial, from which a ilty man, known to be guilty, is permitted to walk th crowned with a spurious halo, is the one in nd; no single trial, but the essence of trials with- number.

A criminal trial is likely to have nothing to do th the guilt or innocence of the prisoner. These considerations that do not enter into the mind the defense. The object is to defeat justice, not uphold the law, and not to assure a fair trial. Ined, in many instances, a fair trial would be fatal. is the last thing to be desired.

Consider the advantage a conscienceless lawyer s in the fact that the complete story of the prosetion is before him. Following the methods of his d, he has merely to procure the essential "witsses" drill them in the false testimony they are to rvey, and then there is nothing for the jury to do to guess what witness is telling the truth, and at witness is a liar. This may not always be a ple task.

Nobody would deny that there are lawyers in nty who would scorn these tricks. Nobody actomed to observe, could deny that there are laws in abundance who win cases, and win a certain utation, wholly by resort to exactly this style of kery.

DEVOTION TO REPORTERS

The loyalty of its staff is the great strength of a wspaper. The devotion of reporters to their call in general, and to the journal for which they k, is known wherever papers are printed. It is epted as a matter of course.

The correspondent who goes to the battlefront, or near as the military will permit, or who explores far land, or interviews the great folk of the ld, is only the reporter operating in an enlarged d.

When in the war with Spain the first expedition sent to Cuba, the first person to step from the t that headed the landing force was a newspaper n.

When Dewey sailed into Manila bay, standing on bridge with him were not officers of high rank, a newspaper man. And quick as word could flashed across the ocean the world knew not only Manila had fallen, but was reading a detailed ount, vivid, picturesque and true.

Reporters do not stop for danger. They defy any dship the conquering of which means a story for paper they represent. In the triumph over diffiies, and the satisfaction of knowing they have a victory, usually they think they have reward ugh.

Two reporters for the Pasadena Evening Post went the hills while floods threatened to destroy the path they trod, fog enwrapped them, and a ding storm beat into their faces and soaked their ments. They went despite the counsel of experied trailers, and they got what they were after. y reached the place where ex-Congressman Ranwas marooned. Across a roaring stream he w them a message. They came out with the sage.

This feat was typical of the reportorial spirit. young men who essayed it would as willingly e gone on as perilous a mission as a reporter has faced by land or sea.

AFTER TEN STORE

Just as the rain of recent memory was falling an editorial was printed bidding it welcome, praising its benignity and usefulness. Returns had not all come in at that time.

The rain did measureless good. The hills beginning to gleam with a coat of verdure attest that. But it was rude in its methods. It battered exposed points ferociously. It struck the mountains in a burst of water that gathered impetus as it sped for lower levels. It flooded a considerable area, washed out bridges, turned cabins upside down and deposited rubbish over a wide area. It chased people out into the wind and the wet, perhaps up a tree. It interfered with traffic and communication. It spoiled prospective Christmas shopping tours. It changed the material world for the nonce into a dreary, dripping, splashing ball of mud. It greased the pavements until pedestrians and automobiles alike yielded to the impulse to skid. So much for the debit side.

But the sun was certain to shine again, touching an earth refreshed. Broad acres were awakened to response to the husbandman. Sustenance for fruit and flower and grain had sunk deep into the soil.

When the books are balanced the storm will be found to have richly paid for itself. It was more boisterous than the average mortal would have deemed necessary.

There is an old saying "We can't have everything to please us."

INTERESTING STATISTICS

Statistics as a rule do not make a very strong appeal. The state board of health has given out the statement that 192 babies will be born in California Christmas day. Such figures appeal, being out of the ordinary.

This is a sort of deal in futures. Advance statistics are different from the counting of visible noses. They incite a friendly interest in this case. There is no finer Christmas gift than a baby. These official statistics constitute a prophesy of joy for 192 households.

Concerning such important family events there is, even in the domestic circle most intimately concerned, an element of uncertainty. It is not to be supposed, then, that the statistician of the board has taken a definite census.

Insurance companies, and similarly unromantic concerns, recognize a law of averages. They will tell you calmly how many men of a given age will die in the space of a year. The law of averages applies as truly to the beginning as to the finish of the mortal span. Therefore the heralded figures are not based on guess. They tell what, according to the law of averages, is bound to happen.

Of course there is not absolute accuracy to be expected. Some of these little people may beat the schedule, and others appear on the scene after 12 o'clock has struck Christmas night. Nevertheless the chances are that the advance statistics will be substantially verified.

THE LAST OF THE HAPSBURGS

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Charles of Hungary, last of the Hapsburgs, disappears into exile.

He is a picturesque and pathetic figure.

He not only represents the petering out of a noble family, but, what is more tragic, the petering out of a dead idea.

He illustrates the senility of the idea of heredity.

Heredity is a notion that the world clung to through a good many centuries, trying to find something stable upon this earth of change. We are just awakening to the fact that nothing is stable unless it can change.

Charles is not only the last of the Hapsburgs but he has a better right to be called the last of the Caesars than William of Hohenzollern.

Many authorities regard the House of Hapsburg as the legitimate continuation of the line of Caesars.

As one says, "The Hapsburgs were of royal and imperial rank long before the Hohenzollerns were petty, quarrelsome, but undistinguished East German potentates. Whereas the oldest German empire was no older than its monarchy."

But even that is not quite accurate.

Guglielmo Ferrero, in his recent interesting volume, "The Ruin of the Ancient Civilization," says that until the time of Septimus Severus, the Roman empire never acknowledged the hereditary or dynastic principle as the base of its organization. The emperor, like the republican magistrates, only acquired his power by election; parentage or birth was never accepted as legitimate title to authority."

Hereditary monarchy is an affair of the east and was only grafted on to Europe by the general influence of paganism throughout the middle ages.

Charles, therefore, is typical rather of an extinct idea or a moribund idea than of a declining house. Personally, he is of no importance. Like most hereditary kings, he was a second-rater. Continuous heredity has never produced first-class men.

The really great men of the race, the leaders, the men of distinction, originality, and power always come from the common soil of the population.

Monarchy is a somewhat frantic and intrinsically absurd effort to avoid the recurring confusion of elections. It does not even do that.

For in England, for instance, where exists probably the most successful monarchy, it is one only in name, and the violence of political turmoil goes on just the same with the clash of parties, and the king is so removed from it that he has practically little or nothing to do with the whole business.

As a matter of fact, the real life of the people goes on in its voluntary organizations. Government has very little to do with it, and in the course of evolution it will finally be relegated into insignificance.

The great problem today is how to get rid of government as much as possible.

As for the manner of choosing governers, it makes little difference. One may have a monarch as a figurehead or we may elect a president, or we may decide who is to be our national representative in some other way.

Probably in time to come we shall decide by drawing straws or shaking dice, which will be as good a way as any.

THE LISTENING POST

There were three brothers.
Of the olden time.
When the world was newer than now.
And men were more in the making.
Although, as a matter of fact, men are always in the making.

* * *

However much there may be of tradition and inheritance and religion and education, men will always be in the making.
They will never spring full armed into life.
Like Minerva from the head of Jove.

* * *

All of us have to tread the same road.
All of have to battle, perhaps, with the multiplication table.
With the alphabet.
With signs and symbols and rules and theorems and the like.

* * *

And then we have to add the sum of human experience to that.
And learn many things that are not in books.
For there is much learning that is not between book covers.

* * *

But in the newer days of the world, men did not have opportunity as ready to their hands.
There were not schools in every community.
And at the country cross roads.

* * *

So, in those newer days which we call the olden days by mistake, perhaps, there were the three brothers.
Whose names were of the newer days of language.
ICAN and IWILL and IDO were the brothers.

* * *

You may not know of what race they were from the names.
But it is enough to say they were of the human race.
And ICAN sat by his hut and viewed the forest.
Stretched his immense arms and grasped his stone axe and felt a sense of power.
ICAN was muscular and strong.
There was no man of his tribe who could overcome him in combat.
When he aroused himself.
But he was slothful and disinclined to exert himself.

* * *

And as he viewed the forest his brother IWILL came upon him.
"I should hew the logs," said ICAN. "I have the strength to rend them almost with my bare hands."
"Then let us to the task," said IWILL. "I will work with you."

* * *

And with the inspiration of his brother IWILL the trees were felled.
And the logs were split and smoothed.
And laid in a great heap.
And stones were brought up from the bed of the stream.

* * *

ICAN carried them.
With the help and cheer and spirit of his brother IWILL.
For it was necessary that the two of them work together.
ICAN with his strength and IWILL with his spirit.

* * *

And when the two of them had worked together there came the third brother IDO.
Who had both the strength of ICAN and the spirit of IWILL.
And he placed the logs and laid the stones and made a house.

* * *

And when it was done they lived together in it, and planned further things to do for their good and that of those of their tribe.
And they worked always together.
ICAN and IWILL and IDO.

* * *

And so if I CAN and I WILL, I DO.

JAMES W. FOLEY.

SONGS OF THE POETS

On the Death of a Particular Friend—By James Thomson (1700-1748)

As those we love decay, we die in part,
String after string is sever'd from the heart;
Till loosen'd life, at last but breathing clay,
Without one pang is glad to fall away.

Unhappy he who latest feels the blow!
Whose eyes have wept o'er every friend laid low,
Dragg'd ling'ring on from partial death to death,
Till, dying, all he can resign is—breath.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

QUALITY-FIRST PAYS

[New York Herald]

It costs time and money for American mills and factories to turn out export products which represent highest quality and workmanship. But the policy of quality-first pays in the end.

TAX-EXEMPT SECURITIES

[New York World]

Why should the states approve a constitutional amendment by which they would forfeit the right to issue tax-exempt securities? . . . It would be directly contrary to the interests of the states to abandon the means of self-protection they now enjoy.

HAS ONE BRIGHT FEATURE

[St. Louis Globe-Democrat]

Consideration of President Harding's idea of an annual Conference of Nations must be for the present entirely speculative. But, dimly as we may now see it, it has some attractive features. One is that Senator Borah is instantly against it.

BORAH'S DEAREST FEARS

[Philadelphia Public Ledger]

Senator Borah is engaged these days in reading military alliance, military force, balances of power and future wars into the four-power treaty in which America, Great Britain, France and Japan bind themselves to peace in the Pacific. The Idahoan views with alarm and is being assisted by that democratic "bitter-ender," Senator Reed, and for purely partisan purposes by Senators Robinson and Stanley.

Senator Borah cannot find his cherished fears in the language of the treaty, but he is turning it over, looking at it upside down, reaching back of every paragraph, searching every sentence and peering under every word for what he dreads. Or is it for what he hopes to find?

This perennial critic and confirmed isolationist admits that under its terms America is not compelled to go to war. But he is strongly of the opinion that Article II of the four-power treaty is none other than his dear, old enemies, Articles X and XVII of the league covenant.

The ghost of the league fight paraded the senate aisles Monday when Reed, Borah, Stanley, Watson and Robinson invoked the wraiths. The hour was full of echoing memories of all the windy battles fought in these same windy aisles a few months ago. Here was the first skirmish of what the isolationists and "irreconcilables" hope to turn into another pitched battle.

However, they carry no real threat. Of the 96 members of the senate, all present and voting, 64 will be required to approve the four-power treaty. A poll shows, with 16 members absent, that 41 republicans and 14 democrats are for it. Two republicans and three democrats are listed as openly against it. Ten republicans and as many democrats have not made up their minds. On this showing the forces of approval must gather but nine votes more.

Party lines are broken across. Stalwarts like Hitchcock and Overman who fought the good fight for the league are for it. The Underwood influence will help. Honest friends of the league on both sides of the senate cannot oppose it, for there is much of the league in it. Approval seems sure and soon, in spite of the witchfires that burned in the senate Monday.

JUST BETWEEN OURSELVES

By DELLA STEWART

Some pessimists declare that it's impossible to have peace. The world isn't ready for it, they say. Maybe it isn't. But we are part of the world. We can help make it ready.

How? Not by deploring that there has been war. Not by shuddering at coming possibilities of more war. Not by writing and talking about its horrors. Not even by praying for peace—if we're not willing to back up our supplications by efforts in everyday life. Vague petitions are about as useless things as can be imagined—and some of us get no farther than vagueness.

We can help to bring peace by striving for a better understanding. Not in the case of you and I, the common people, better understanding between nations, but between each other; the man in the next office, the woman in the next flat. It's a very practical thing, this peace that so many of us think we want. It goes back of national feeling, to the peace outlook, the peace habit of life. If we cannot compass peace with our neighbor whom we know, how can we expect to bring it about between those afar?

We'll never bring about peace while we pin medals on our war heroes and ignore the accomplishments of those who serve their country in common ways. We'll never bring about peace when we back-bite and envy and scorn associates who are not exactly to our liking. We'll never bring about peace while we make no effort to understand the aims and viewpoints of those who think differently than we do.

Peace is a habit of the mind—first of all. We must have it as individuals before we can expect it as a nation.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

In a number of instances prohibition agents have been found not immune to bribery. It does not follow from this that every man has his price. There are, however, plenty of men who not only have a price, but are zealous in quest of it.

HENRY JAMES

When the prohibition forces were first organized some sought employment with no other thought than to make money out of it. They realized the immense profits of illegal traffic, and the ease with which they might secure a share.

Doubtless there were, and perhaps still are, prohibition officials whose principal business is bootlegging. It is difficult to prove the facts. The men come under suspicion and are dismissed.

In Milwaukee one such crooked official has been found guilty of accepting $16,500 from the whisky ring. Out of this he wins a term of seven years and a fine of $16,000.

Probably the fine was fixed at such a figure to allow the prisoner's lawyer a fee.

Few will say that the severity was not fully merited. The only regret is that more of the offenders have not been caught.

There also arises a hope that the givers of the bribe will get all that is coming to them.

* * *

Wall street statisticians state that the Rockefeller fortune has been increased $678,000,000 in ten years by oil alone.

If these figures are correct they place Rockefeller safely inside the billionaire class despite the large sums he has given to education.

* * *

One of Chicago's exclusive clubs is reported as so disgusted with the experience of being raided for liquor that it has decided to obey the law.

It is getting difficult to be exclusive enough to exclude the prohibition agent, but anyhow, obeying the law is not a bad idea.

The world's oldest man, so far as known, is an Armenian of 140 years. All his life he has eaten and drunk what he wanted, when he could get it. He underwent privations and hardships that would have killed the average man a century before now.

From this simple example may be deduced the wisdom of being born with a good constitution if desirous of longevity.

There is a commission named for the purpose of simplifying the intricate and mysterious blank the citizen must fill in stating his income. Its appointment was inspired by the hope that persons of ordinary intelligence, called upon to fill one of the blanks might no longer be plunged into profanity, insanity and deep despair.

The blanks in use heretofore have been elaborate puzzles. Innocent men have filled them out conscientiously, only to find later that they had committed seven kinds of perjury, all unwitting had robbed the government, or snatched bread from the mouths of their own children.

Any reasonably intelligent man could state his income, his outgo and his exemptions if not driven to mental darkness by a diabolic system of blankety blanks.

Mrs. Obenchain offers to forgive the Kennedys, husband and wife, and over this gentle forbearance, the sob sister of the press gives an extra gulp, doubtless spraying her manuscript with salt, salt tears.

It may be necessary to explain that the son of the Kennedys was murdered, that reasons arose thereafter for thinking the Obenchain woman was mixed in the tragedy in a role not wholly passive.

The parents are displeased with the entire episode, and pronounced in their disapproval of this woman as a supposed participant. Yet she is ready to forgive them.

Sob, sob sister, sob! Go to it with every lachrymal duct playing like a fire hose!

Emma knows now that the United States is not as bad as painted by her in the dear, dead days for which she had grown pretty homesick.

Vanderbilt and Rockefeller have been ordered off certain railroad boards. Their presence there seems to be in conflict with the law.

It may seem a radical view, and yet it is a fact that the law that applies to Smith and Jones is meant also to apply to the gentlemen mentioned.

Every friend of the Irish cause in this country hoped and believed that the terms arranged with the English would be acceptable.

There is great disappointment at the spectacle of renewed fighting and fresh exhibition of the spirit of hatred.

The reason for an enlarged congress is that divers ambitious gentlemen would like a job in Washington.

The addition proposed would cause a tremendous, and so far as has yet appeared, useless expenditure. It would not dovetail nicely with the plan for government economy.

However, if there is bound to be an increase, this end of the state does not propose to let those smooth politicians around the bay city walk off with more than their share.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

Most of the men I know are agnostic, I think. Or maybe they are just careless. Perhaps it is a tendency of the age. When I was a youngster the folks I knew were at least outwardly religious. The same families in the same towns are outwardly irreligious now. Preachers tell me horrifying things about the decrease in church attendance. And yet——

"There must be something in this thing," said a man to me today.

He is not a religious man. Square enough, I guess. Certainly a devoted husband and father. But he swears with the force and precision of a mule driver, and he drinks whenever he gets a chance, which is pretty often, and he laughs like a fool at an off-color story, provided the story is good. An average sort of a man, probably. Likely he hasn't conciously thought about religion since the last time he went to church, which was fourteen years ago.

"But there must be something in this thing," he said to me today.

He was fresh from attending a service at the Hadley Mission, down on New York's Bowery. He saw man after man get up there and bear testimony. They knew just when and where this incredible thing had happened. "It was eleven years, seven months, fourteen days ago that I gave myself to God," these saved men say. "It was about 8 o'clock in the evening. And, glory to God, I've been His Man ever since."

The man who had dropped in on the Hadley Mission kept on repeating, thoughtfully, that there must be something in it. He saw coke fiends, he said, who had been cured of coke. They had not taken any patent medicine. They turned to their friends sitting in glorifying rows in the mission room and called them by name.

"You used to know me when I was a snow bird," they would say. "You knew me, Jake. You pulled me out of the gutter once." Others got up to tell of this miracle that had happened. "I was a thief," one man said. "I was a common drunkard. I beat my wife. I drove my daughter out into the street. I was a gutter bum."

All told the same story. Saved by the grace of the Lord. The man who told me said, swearing thoughtfully and kind of seriously, that he couldn't understand it. There wasn't any doubt, he said, that these men had been bums and thieves and drug fiends and drunkards, nor that they are now straight.

"There must be something in this thing," said he.

A NEW IDEA FOR A HUNTING DOG

By JOHN BARTON

(Copyright, 1921, by Associated Newspapers)

Tommy Peele's father was mighty glad to see the red dog with Louie Tomson next morning when the little boys set out for school. He could stop the red dog's owner from hunting on his farm, but he had to give the dog and the gun if the hunter came for them. And how could he if the dog were gone? He just had to tie it up again, tight, tight, so it couldn't break away. For he felt sure the man would come.

So did the red dog. It lay down with its nose in its paws and tried not to whine, but its "talking" eyes were so sad Tommy's kind old Watch came over to comfort it. "Never you mind," said Watch, talking dog to dog. "It's a whole lot more comfortable here in the sun than it is on the school house steps. And a whole lot more peaceable. We'll worry out some kind of a plan. Only I wish we could get down to the Pond for a talk with Dr. Muskrat."

"A talk with Dr. Muskrat!" the red dog exclaimed. "Why, I've hunted all my life and I've never swapped two words with my game yet."

"Sho!" sniffed Watch. "That's a poor kind of hunting, 'cording to the way we see things here. We hunt all the time—Tommy and Louie and I—but we never kill anything. What's the use of killing? We get plenty to eat in the kitchen. It's more fun to feed the woodsfolk than it is to feed on them."

"Hunt without killing?" I never heard of such a thing!" barked the stranger, with both ears cocked. Then one ear dropped thoughtfully. "I might have known," he nodded to himself, "I might have known Louie couldn't kill things. He can't bear to hurt any one. Watch, do you know what I did this morning? I drank the cat's milk—just on purpose to plague them, 'cause they're so spitty mean. The slap Louie gave me wouldn't have lamed one of my fleas. I stood there blinking like a fool all the time he was filling their dish again—I just couldn't believe he was done slapping. But you better believe I didn't steal it a second time."

"Well, don't you go to killing any of his Woodsfolk friends, even for a first time." Watch wagged a serious head back at him.

"I'll try not to. Truly I will," answered the red dog. "Only I get pretty excited when I smell game. Why is that?"

"Just plain dog," smiled the wise old fellow. "And Louie was just plain boy—once upon a time. But you'll have to learn."

State News in Brief

ARKANSAS

Little Rock.—Ed. Olive, farmer, 40 years old, shot and killed his divorced wife, 35, at her home near Oakdale, then turned his pistol upon himself, and inflicted wounds from which he died an hour later.

TENNESSEE

Memphis.—A resolution advocating the limitation of acreage planted in cotton in 1922 to the same proportion of land placed in cultivation in all crops as prevailed in 1921, was adopted by a committee of the cotton acreage convention. The convention is in session here to draft plans to stabilize conditions in the cotton producing industry. Another resolution adopted urged a campaign of diversification to make every farmer self supporting, regardless of the trend of cotton prices. Plans for a state organization to work for acreage limitation were outlined durig the day.

Knoxville.—For the second time within a year in his court, Judge Von A. Huffaker reprimanded a woman witness for what he considered too liberal a display of silken hosiery. According to the judge, she drew her skirt too high and to cap the climax jauntily crossed her legs in front of the judge and jurors. Upon being reprimanded, the woman attempted a reply, but was silenced by the judge, and retired weeping.

Judge Huffaker said that his respect for the modesty of his mother and that of other good women compelled him to act as he did, and that no women could come into his court and "insult a man's sense of modesty."

MASSACHUSETTS

Boston.—Samuel Locknor, of 16 Willard street, Cambridge, appealed from a $20 fine in the South Boston Court for violating the city ordinance by allowing his wagon to stand on the street for more than a half an hour Saturday night. Locknor said that he was supporting his aged father and mother and, as he had a barrel of apples to sell, he was anxious to get rid of them. It was shown that Locknor has been in the South Boston Court five times for similar offences; six times in the Central Court, and five times in the Roxbury Court.

proposed to be improved and the character of such improvement.

It shall not be necessary to describe in detail such improvement, but in such resolution reference may be made to the specifications, plans, cross-sections or profiles, or any or all thereof, on file in the office of the Superintendent of Streets of the City of Glendale, for further particulars and a description of such improvement.

Whenever any such proposed improvement is, in the opinion of the Council, of more than local or ordinary public benefit, the Council may make the cost and expenses of such improvement chargeable upon a district, which district it shall in such resolution of intention describe by specifying the exterior boundaries thereof and declare it to be the district to be benefitted by such improvement and to be assessed to pay the cost and expenses thereof.

The Council may also, in its discretion, declare in such resolution of intention that the City shall pay a percentage of the expense of such improvement, or that the City shall pay an amount thereupon to be fixed in such resolution, or that the assessment against all of the property to be benefitted by such improvement shall be limited to an amount to be fixed in such resolution, and that the City shall pay the remainder of the expense of such improvement.

SECTION 2. The resolution referred to in Section 1 hereof shall be published once in the English language in the official newspaper of said City. Upon the adoption of said resolution the Superintendent of Streets shall cause to be conspicuously posted in such street or streets or portion thereof, or in such street or streets in which any such sidewalk or curbs or portion thereof are to be constructed or improved, not more than 300 feet apart, and not less than three in all, notices of the passage of such resolution. When an assessment district is established in said resolution of intention, such notices shall also be posted along the streets and parts of streets within said district and not more than 300 feet in distance apart. Said notices shall be headed "NOTICE OF IMPROVEMENT" in letters of not less than one inch in height, and shall in legible characters state the fact of the passage of said resolution, its date or approval, the character of the improvement proposed, and shall refer to said resolution for further particulars.

SECTION 3. Within ten (10) days of the publication of said resolution and the completion of the posting of said notices, the owner of any real property abutting on that portion or portions of the street or streets proposed to be improved, or that portion posed to be improved, or that portion of the street or streets in which such sidewalk of curb proposed to be constructed or improved, and in case the cost and expenses of such improvement is to be assessed upon a district, the owner of any property in said district, may file with the City Clerk addressed to the Council, a written protest respecting such improvement, and describing the property owned by him, which it is proposed to assess therefor. At its next regular meeting or at any subsequent meeting to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, the Council shall hear such protest or protests and pass upon the same, and its decision thereof shall be final and conclusive.

SECTION 4. The affidavit of the proprietor, foreman or clerk of the newspaper publishing said resolution showing such publication, and the affidavit of the Superintendent of Streets or of the person or persons posting such notices, shall be filed in the office of the Superintendent of Streets and shall be prima facie evidence of due and proper publication and posting of said resolution and posting of said notices.

SECTION 5. At the expiration of ten (10) days from the publication of said resolution and the completion of the posting of said notices, if no protest is made, or upon the overruling of such protest or protests if made, the Council by motion or resolution may direct said work to be done by the Superintendent of Streets, provided, however, that before proceeding to direct said work to be done, the Council shall advertise for bids for said work as provided in Section 9 of Article VI, of the Charter of the City of Glendale, when the expenditure required for same shall exceed the sum of $1000.00.

SECTION 6. Upon the completion of such work the Superintendent of Streets shall compute the cost of the improvement, and shall deduct therefrom any percentage or amount or portion thereof which the Council in its resolution of intention may have declared that the City shall pay, and shall assess the remainder against the several parcels of property fronting or abutting on streets or parts of streets wherein such improvement shall have been made, or in cases in which the cost and expenses of such improvement shall have been chargeable upon a district, then against the parcels of property in such district, all in proportion to the benefits received from said improvement, by the several parcels of property. The amount of each such assessment shall become a lien against the parcel of property so assessed as of the date of its confirmation by the Council as hereinafter provided and shall thereupon become due and payable to the City of Glendale. The assessment so made against property owned by the City, or by the United States of America, or the State of California, or the School District, or any public agency, and dedicated to public use, and the percentage or amount or portion, if any, which the Council may have declared in said Resolution of Intention should be paid by the City, shall be paid by the City out of such funds as the Council may direct.

SECTION 7. Subdivision 1. The expenses incurred for any work authorized by this act (which expense shall not include the cost of any work done in such portion of any street as is required by law to be kept in order or repair by any person or company having railroad tracks thereon, nor include work which shall have been declared in the resolution of intention to be assessed on a district benefitted) shall be assessed upon the lots and lands fronting thereon, except as otherwise in this act specifically provided; each lot or portion of a lot being separately assessed, in proportion to the frontage, at a rate per front foot sufficient to cover the total expense of the work.

Subdivision 2. The expense of the work done on main street crossings shall be assessed at a uniform rate per front foot of the quarter blocks and irregular blocks adjoining and cornering upon the crossings, and separately upon the whole of each lot or portion of a lot having any frontage in the said blocks fronting on said main streets, half way to the next main street crossing, or to the end of such street if it does not meet another, and all the way on said blocks to a boundary line of the city where no such crossing intervenes, but only according to its frontage in said quarter blocks and irregular blocks.

Subdivision 3. Where a main street terminates in another main street, the expenses of the work done on one-half of the width of the street opposite the termination shall be assessed upon the lots in each of the two quarter blocks adjoining and cornering on that side, according to the frontage of such lots on said main streets, and the expense of the work on the other half of the width of said street shall be assessed upon the lots fronting on the termination and the lots adjacent to said lots on each side half way from the termination to the next terminating or intersecting street, according to the frontage of such lots on that side.

Subdivision 4. Where an alley or subdivision street crosses a main street, the expense of all work done on said crossing shall be assessed on all lots or portions of lots half way on said alley or subdivision street to the next crossing or intersection, or to the end of such alley or subdivision street, if it does not meet another.

Subdivision 5. The expense of work done on alley or subdivision street crossings shall be assessed upon the lots fronting upon such alley or subdivision streets on each side thereof, in all directions, half way to the next street, place or court, on either side, respectively, or to the end of such alley or subdivision street if it does not meet another.

Subdivision 6. Where a subdivision street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court terminates in another street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court, the expense of the work done on one-half of the width of the subdivision street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court opposite the termination, shall be assessed upon the lot or lots fronting on such subdivision street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court so terminating, according to its frontage thereon, halfway, on each side respectively, to the next street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court, or to the end of such street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court if it does not meet another, shall be assessed upon the lots fronting on the termination to the next terminating or intersecting street, according to the frontage of such lots on that side, and in all other work done on the termination the property fronting on the termination shall be considered frontage and be assessed as set forth in Subdivision 1 of this Section.

Subdivision 7. Where any work mentioned in this act is done on one side of the center line of any street, the assessment for the expenses thereof shall be made only upon the lots and lands fronting nearest upon that side of the street and for intervening intersections only upon the two quarter blocks adjoining and cornering upon that side.

Subdivision 8. Whenever any lot, piece or parcel of land belonging to the United States, or to the State of California, or any lot, piece or parcel of land belonging to any county, city, public agent, mandatory of the Government, school board, educational, penal or reform institution, or institution for the feeble-minded or the insane, and being in use in the performance of any public function, shall front upon the proposed work or improvement, or be included within the district declared by the City Council in its resolution of intention to be the district to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses thereof, said City Council may, in the resolution of intention, declare that said lots, pieces or parcels of land, or any of them, shall be omitted from the assessment thereafter to be made to cover the costs and expenses of said work or improvement. In the event that said lots, pieces or parcels of land, or any of them, shall by said resolution be omitted from the assessment, then the total expense of all work done shall be assessed on the remaining lots fronting on the work or improvement, or lying within the limits of the assessment district without regard to such omitted lots, pieces or parcels of land. In the event that the Council shall, in such resolution of intention declare that said lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned as aforesaid, or any of them, shall be included in the assessment, or in the event that no declaration is made respecting such lots, pieces or parcels of land, or any of them, then said City shall be liable for such sum or sums as may thereafter be assessed against such lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned and used, and so included in the assessment by reason of the aforesaid declaration, or such lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned and used respecting which the resolution of intention makes no declaration, which shall be payable by the said City out of the general fund unless the legislative body in its resolution of intention designate another fund.

SECTION 8. The Superintendent of Streets shall provide a suitable record book entitled "Assessments, and Liens for Street, Sidewalk and Curb Improvements, Under Ordinance No. 517." In said book there shall be entered the name of each street or portion thereof so improved, the name of the owner, if known, of each lot, or portion thereof assessed (if such owner is unknown the word "Unknown" shall be substituted for the name of the owner); a description of such property; a designation of each lot, piece or parcel of such property by an appropriate number; the amount assessed against said property; the date of said assessment; the penalty for delinquency in the payment thereof; the total amount chargeable against said property at date of sale theerof, if sold; date of sale; name of purchaser; date of redemption from such sale; name of redemption; amount paid to redeem same and date of certificate of sale, and date of deed, if made.

No error in the name of the property owner and no error in the description of the property shall effect the validity of the lien provided for in this ordinance, provided that the description is such that the property referred to may be identified therefrom.

SECTION 9. When the entries in said book respecting any improvement have been made by the Superintendent of Streets as provided herein, he shall cause to be published notice thereof for three (3) days in the official newspaper of said City.

SECTION 10. Any property owner affected by proceedings taken under this ordinance, feeling aggrieved by any act or determination of the said Superintendent of Streets of said Council relating to such improvement, or who may claim that said improvements have not been made in a workmanlike manner, or having any objections to the correctness or legality of the entries in said record book may, within thirty (30) days after the first publication of the notice provided for in Section 9 hereof, make and file with the City Clerk objections or protest in writing which shall briefly specify the grounds of his objection or protest. At the next regular meeting of the Council following the expiration of said thirty (30) days the said Superintendent of Streets shall present to the Council the said record book and the entries therein pertaining to such improvement, and the City Clerk shall at the same time present to the Council any and all relevant objections or protests which may have been duly filed. Thereupon, or at a time to which the matter may be adjourned, the Council shall consider such assessment and any objections and protests which may have been filed pertaining thereto, and may remedy or correct any error or informality in the proceedings and revise or correct any of the acts or determinations of the said Superintendent of Streets or other officer of the City relating to said improvement, and may confirm, amend, set aside, alter, modify or correct the said assessments entered in said book in such a manner as to it shall seem just. If there be no objections or protests, the Council shall, at any regular meeting after the expiration of the time for making and filing objections or protests, confirm such assessment. The decisions and determinations of the Council in such matters shall be final and conclusive upon all persons entitled to object or protest under the provisions of this section.

SECTION 11. The Street Superintendent shall, upon the confirmation of said assessment, give notice, by publication for three (3) days in the official newspaper of said City, that said assessment has been confirmed by the Council and that all sums assessed therein are due and payable immediately, and that the payment of the said sums is to be made to him within thirty days after the date of the first publication, which date shall be stated in the notice. Said notice shall contain a statement that all assessments not paid before the expiration of said thirty days will become delinquent, and that thereupon five per cent. upon the amount of each such assessment will be added thereto. When payment for any assessment is made, the Street Superintendent shall mark opposite such assessment, the word "paid," the date of payment, and the name of the person by or for whom the same is paid, and shall, if so requested, give receipt therefor. On the expiration of said period of thirty (30) days, all assessments then unpaid shall become delinquent, and the Street Superintendent shall certify such fact at the foot of said assessment roll, and mark each such assessment "delinquent," and add five per cent. to the amount of each assessment delinquent.

The Street Superintendent shall, within ten days from the date of such delinquency, begin the publication of a list of the delinquent assessments, which list must contain a description of each parcel of property delinquent, and opposite or against each description, the name of the owner as stated in the assessment roll, and the amount of the assessment, penalty and costs due, including the cost of advertising, which last shall not exceed the sum of fifty cents for each lot, piece or parcel of land, separately assessed. The Street Superintendent shall append to and publish with said delinquent list a notice that unless each assessment delinquent, together with the penalty and costs thereon, is paid, the property upon which such assessment is a lien, will be sold at public auction at a time and place to be specified in the notice. The publication must be made for a period of three (3) days in the official newspaper of said City. The time of sale must not be less than five days, nor more than ten days, after the expiration of the period of publication of said list, and the place of sale must be in, or in front of, the office of the Street Superintendent.

At any time after such delinquency, and prior to the sale of any piece of property assessed and delinquent, any person may pay the assessment on such piece of property, together with the penalty, and costs then due, including the cost of advertising, if such payment is made after the first publication of the list of delinquent assessments. The Street Superintendent shall thereupon mark such assessment "Paid."

SECTION 12. On the day fixed for the sale, the Superintendent of Streets shall, at the hour of 10 o'clock A. M., commence the sale of property advertised, commencing at the head of the list, and continuing in numerical order of lots or parcels of land until all are sold; provided, that he may postpone or continue the sale from day to day until all of the property is sold. Each lot, piece or parcel of land separately assessed must be offered for sale separately, and the person who will take the least quantity of land, and then and there pay the amount of the assessment, delinquency penalty and costs due, including fifty cents to the Superintendent of Streets for a certificate of sale, shall become the purchaser. In case there is no purchaser for any lot, piece or parcel of land so offered for sale, the same shall be struck off to the City of Glendale, as purchaser, and the City Council shall appropriate out of the general or such other fund as the Council may deem proper, the amount required for such purpose, and shall order the City Treasurer to place the same in the special fund for such improvement. No charge shall be made for the certificate of sale when the municipality is the purchaser.

SECTION 13. After making the sale, the Superintendent of Streets must execute, in duplicate, a certificate of sale setting forth the description of the property sold, the name of the owner thereof, as given on the record book entitled "Assessments and Liens for Street, Sidewalk and Curb Improvements Under Ordinance No. 517" that said property was sold for a delinquent assessment (specifying the amount for which the same was made), the amount for which such property was sold, the date of sale, the name of the purchaser and the time when the purchaser will be entitled to a deed. The Superintendent of Streets must file one copy of such certificate in his office and deliver the other to the purchaser, or if the City of Glendale is the purchaser, to the City Clerk of said City, who shall file the same in his office. On the filing of the copy of such certificate in the office of the Superintendent of Streets the lien of the assessments shall vest in the purchaser, and is only divested by a redemption of the property, as in this ordinance provided. The Superintendent of Streets shall also enter in the record book entitled "Assessments and Liens for Street, Sidewalk and Curb Improvements Under Ordinance No. 517" opposite the description of each piece of property offered for sale, a description of the part thereof sold, the amount for which same was sold, the date of sale, and the name of the purchaser.

SECTION 14. A redemption of any parcel of property sold for delinquent assessment hereunder may be made at any time prior to the execution and delivery of a deed therefor, by paying to the Superintendent of Streets the amount for which the property is sold, and in addition thereto, ten (10) per cent. thereon, if paid within three (3) months from date of sale; twenty (20) per cent if paid within six (6) months; thirty (30) per cent. if paid within nine (9) months; and forty (40) per cent. if paid within twelve (12) months, and fifty (50) per cent. if paid thereafter. When redemption is made the Superintendent of Streets shall note that fact on the duplicate certificate of sale on file in his office, and deposit the amount paid with the City Treasurer, who shall credit the purchaser named in the certificate of sale with said amount, and pay same to the purchaser or his assigns upon the surrender of the certificate of sale, and upon satisfactory proof of assignment thereof, if any. When the City of Glendale is the purchaser, the Treasurer shall notify the City Clerk of the redemption, and such Clerk shall thereupon cancel the certificate of sale on file in his office, and said Superintendent of Streets shall also note said fact of redemption, in said book entitled "Assessments and Liens for Street, Sidewalk and Curb Improvements Under Ordinance No. 517," in an appropriate column, entering therein the date of redemption, the person by whom redeemed, and the amount paid.

SECTION 15. At any time after the expiration of twelve months from date of sale, the Superintendent of Streets must execute to the purchaser or his assignee on his application, if such purchaser or assignee has complied with the provisions of this section, a deed of the property sold, in which shall be recited substantially the matters contained in the certificate, also any assignment thereof and the fact that no person has redeemed the property. The Superintendent of Streets shall receive from the applicant for a deed, one dollar for making such deed, unless the municipality is the purchaser, in which case no charge shall be made therefor. The purchaser or his assignee must, at least thirty days before he applies for a deed, serve upon the owner of the property, and upon the occupant of such property, if the same is occupied, a written notice, setting forth a description of the property, that the said property has been sold for a delinquent assessment (specifying the improvement for which the same was made), the amount for which it was sold, the amount necessary to redeem at the time of giving notice, and the time when such purchaser or assignee will apply to the Superintendent of Streets for a deed. If the said owner cannot be found, after due diligence, said notice must be posted in a conspicuous place upon said property, at least thirty days before the time stated therein, at which the application for a deed will be made. The person applying for a deed must file with the Superintendent of Streets an affidavit or affidavits showing the notice of such application has been given, as herein required, and if the notice was not served on the owner of the property, personally, that due diligence was used to find said owner, which affidavit or affidavits must be filed by the Superintendent of Streets in his office. If redemption of the property is made after such affidavits are filed and more than eleven months from the date of sale, the person making such redemption must pay, in addition to the other amounts required, three dollars for the service of notice and the making of such affidavits, which amount shall be paid over to the purchaser or his assignee in the same manner as other sums paid for redemption. No deed for any property sold for delinquent assessment shall be made until the purchaser or his assignee has complied with all provisions of this section, and filed the proper affidavits with the Superintendent of Streets.

SECTION 16. That all ordinances and parts or ordinances in conflict herewith be, and the same are hereby repealed.

SECTION 17. This ordinance being an ordinance relating to public improvements the cost of which is to be borne wholly or in part by special assessments, it shall take effect upon its passage. The City Clerk shall certify to the passage of this ordinance and cause the same to be published once in the Glendale Daily Press, the official newspaper of said City of Glendale.

Mayor of the City of Glendale.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE:

SECTION 1. The public peace, health, safety, comfort, convenience, interest and welfare require the establishment of a set-back line along all public streets, public ways or places in the City of Glendale, except in that portion of said City included within the Business and Industrial Districts of said City, as said districts are now or may hereafter be established by ordinance; and a line to be known and designated as a set-back line is hereby established along all such public streets, public ways or places upon which any lots or parcel of land fronts at a minimum distance of twenty-five (25) feet back from the street line for the erection of buildings or structures along any portion of any such public street, public way or place in said City not included within said Business and Industrial Districts aforesaid.

SECTION 2. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to construct any building, wall, fence or other structure within the space between a public street line, a public way or place line and said set-back line herein established, and the Superintendent of Buildings shall refuse to issue any permit for any building or structure to be erected within such space; provided, that the set-back line established by this ordinance may be established, re-established, altered or changed as hereinafter in this ordinance provided.

SECTION 3. Proceedings for the establishment, re-establishment, alteration and change of set-back lines along any portion of any street or other public way or place in the City of Glendale may be initiated as in this ordinance provided.

A petition may be filed with the City Clerk asking that such set-back line or lines be established, re-established, altered or changed, which petition shall designate the street or portion of street along which such lines are sought to be established, re-established, altered or changed, and shall be accompanied by a map or sketch showing the street and lot lines and the proposed set-back lines and the distance thereof from the street lines. Said City Clerk shall thereafter present such petition to the City Council.

SECTION 4. Upon consideration of such petition, or upon its own motion, whenever the public peace, health, safety, comfort, convenience, interest or welfare may require, the Council of the City of Glendale is hereby authorized and empowered to determine the minimum distance back from the street line for the erection of buildings or structures along any portion of any street, public way or place in the City of Glendale, and to order the establishment, re-establishment, alteration or change of a line known or to be known and designated as a set-back line, between which line and the street line no building or structure shall be erected or constructed.

Said time of hearing shall not be less than fifteen (15) nor more than forty (40) days from the date of the adoption of the resolution of intention; and said publication and posting of said resolution shall be made at least ten (10) days before the time of said hearing.

SECTION 6. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance is for any reason held to be invalid or unconstitutional by the decision of any court of competent jurisdiction, such decision shall not effect the validity of the remaining portions of the ordinance. The Council of the City of Glendale hereby declares that it would have passed this ordinance, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared invalid or unconstitutional.

DOUBLE FEATURE GLENDALE TODAY

Mary Pickford in Little Lord Fauntleroy on Sunday

There will be a double feature program at the Glendale theater tonight headed by the Oriole Trio of singers who render a line of popular selections in the most approved manner, or in other words they "put them over" with a bang. The second number of importance will be Dawes & Olga in their contortion novelty. The Norman Duo present a singing oddity that finds favor. Teddy Ladue, the well known comedian and mimic will be welcomed. Kennedy & Grant contribute a liberal amount of laughter and add strength to the bill.

William Russell, in "Singing River" will be the film feature tonight and on Sunday and Monday Mary Pickford comes in "Little Lord Fauntleroy."

A Happy Xmas

We gladly pause, as the joyous holiday season approaches, to wish the people of Glendale a very Merry Christmas and the Happiest kind of a New Year. When kind old Santa makes his rounds Saturday night may he stop at every home and may he not, even by chance, overlook a single resident of this city. May old and young alike be very generously remembered.

We wish to very kindly thank the motorists of Glendale who afforded us such generous patronage since last Christmas season. We have endeavored to give the most value possible for the money that has been expended with us. The increased patronage that we are receiving assures us that our efforts along this line are being appreciated.

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.—Adv.

A CHRISTMAS PRAYER

Thus humbly as of old 'twas said:
"Give us this day our daily bread!"
We ask of Thee no greater store,
Our daily bread—not less or more.
Not oozing fatness swollen with ease;
Bring us to ask on bended knees
Before Thee reverently instead
For this alone—our daily bread.

"Thy will be done"! Now wilt Thou fill
Our souls with grace to know Thy will.
To know Thy simplest blessing good
For thankfulness and gratitude.
To walk the way of grief apart
Where are the poor and faint of heart;
And souls from grief to gladness won
Shall show Thee that Thy will is done.

"Forgive our trespasses!" Today
Like little children gone astray,
And weeping in the dusk, we lift
Our tear-wet cheeks and ask Thy gift
Of mercy; as our bruised feet bleed
Teach Thou us pity by its need,
Forgive our trespasses—Ah, yes,
As we forgive the trespasses.

"Thy kingdom come!" So dull and blind
We are who vainly seek to find
Thy kingdom, and who wander far
From where its templed glories are.
Life reared to beauty with the arts
Of love in these dear, human hearts
Of yours and mine, grown God-like then.
"Thy kingdom come!" Amen! Amen!

THE LAD 'AT LOVES HIS MOTHER

I like to see a lot o' lads
All frolicsome an' free,
An' hear their noisy voices
As they run and shout with glee;
But if there's any sort o' lad
I like better than another,
'At makes my heart most truly glad,
It's th' lad 'at loves his mother.

He may be rather dull at school,
Or rather slow at play,
He may be rough an' quarrelsome—
Mischievous in his way;
He may be always in a scrape,
An' cause no end o' bother,
But there's something good an' honest
In the lad 'at loves his mother.

He may oft do what isn't right,
But conscience will keep prickin';
He dreads far more his mother's grief
Nor what he'd fear a lickin'.
Her troubled face—her tearful een—
Her sighs she tries to smother,
Are coals o' fire on the head
Ov th' lad 'at loves his mother.

When years have passed, an' as a man
He faces toil an' care;
An' where his mother used to sit
Is but an empty chair—
When by his side sits her he loves
More dear than any other,
He still will cherish, love an' bless
The mem'ry of his mother.

A guardian angel through life's road,
Her spirit still will be,
And in the shadow of her wings
He'll find security.
A better husband he will prove,
A father, or a brother;
For th' lad 'at makes the noblest man
Is th' lad 'at loves his mother.

NEW AND OLD

When New Year's come it makes us think
Of what is past and gone,
Of happy days we've had with friends—
Of sad days passed alone,
Of friends we have but lately made,
Of some whose love's grown cold—
But whilst we welcome new friends,
We dearly love the old.

Fresh faces always have a charm,
When youth an' beauty blend,
And words that spring through hearts that's warm,
With me find sure a friend.
But Love an' Truth, an' perfect Trust,
More precious are than gold—
These may exist in new friends,
But we've proved 'em in the old.

Gray hairs above a wrinkled brow,
An' cheeks grown pale an' wan,
Are just as charming to me now
As when friendship's ties began.
Tho' bent the back wi' weight o' years,
'At o'er their heads have rolled,
Their kindly smile my bosom cheers,
For friendship ne'er grows old.

And once again, this New Year's day,
To each an' every one,
I wish "God speed you on your way!"
Until Life's goal be won.
May health, an' wealth, an' sweet content
Be yours, with joys untold,
An' may you find when youth is spent,
True friendships that are old.

CHRISTMAS SONG

See old Christmas! Here he comes!
Bringing joy to countless homes.
Let him in.
Let your doors unbolted be—
Sure a welcome guest is he—
Ruddy face, and snowy hair,
Joy he brings for all to share,
Kith and kin.

Pile the logs upon the fire,
Till the sparks and flames shoot higher!
Make it glow!
Load the tables with good cheer,
Christmas comes but once a year!
Let the holly-berry red,
Round the festive board be spread,
And mistletoe.

Let the jest and laugh resound,
As the loving cup goes round,
Let us sing!
Never was so great a day,
Then throw grief and care away,
For this message now had birth,
"Peace and good will upon earth."
Let it ring!

Little children clasp your hands—
Lads and lasses take your stands,
Short and tall;
Hoary men, and women grey,
Let your hearts be young today,
Join in singing on this morn,
When the Son of Man was born—
Born for all.

Ask the homeless stranger in,
All the world today is kin;
Raise the voice!
Grasp the hand and ope the heart,
Let your joys to all impart
Happiness to cheer their way,
Christ was born on Christmas day—
Then rejoice.
